MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Is Spring finally here? And will there be LIGHT? With the days being longer and warmer, I see the daffodils popping out of the ground and the shrubs beginning to bud.

It's always amazing to me that in spite of the cold and snow, life goes on.

With so many branches down and pot holes, etc., the City staff asks for our patience as they are understaffed, but they are aware of the work that has to be accomplished. The tree debris WILL be picked up. If anyone needs help, our Community Appearance Committee can be contacted. The Annual City Clean up will be April 24th so mark that date to come out and help us clean up our Adopt-a-Spot at the creek.

Read all about Nasrin and Steve Lescure, another Board member team. Nasrin is our Commons Chair and I hope you will spend some time to see what a wonderful job she has done to make it beautiful. I hope you will join the groups that are helping her with the up-keep and appearance of our spot. Steve, as our Historian, is diligent in keeping our history up to date and in tact. See his wonderful article about our history.

At our recent Board meeting on March 11th, planning for the Spring and the future year is underway. The Newsletter will be published and out to your door by April 5 – please peruse it for all the news. Due to popular demand the Newsletter will be delivered to all households and also be published on the website. We love to hear your comments about the CCH Newsletter “The ECCHO”. Jackie and Andy Pachuta do a wonderful job putting it all together and a pat on the back is appreciated – got any suggestions?

The next big event is our Annual Easter Egg hunt which will be held at the Commons on April 3rd. Bring all your little Easter bunnies out for this fun time. Parents – come and enjoy coffee and donuts and get to know some of your neighbors.

Our next Annual General Meeting will be held at 7pm on May 13th in the police station on Old Lee Highway. At this meeting we hold elections and report on previous years’ accomplishments. All residents of CCH are encouraged to attend and find out more about the organization. Our Nominating Chair, Steve Caruso is actively looking to fill a few of the openings on our Board. This is your opportunity to be a part of the policy making issues in your neighborhood. Please call Steve at 703 273 3085 and find out about the openings and all about them.

Please note the article by our Membership Chair about dues. According to our by-laws our Annual Membership begins on January 1 of each year. You will see an attached application form both on the back of your Easter Egg Flyer and in the newsletter. Please fill it out, send it to Tania Dedham OR call your block captain or Board member – we will be happy to pick them up.

Finally, A big thank you to all the residents that made a contribution to our Adopt A Family program in December. Due to your generosity we were able to help out a family that the parent liaison at Lanier Middle School identified in need of a helping hand. Our donations of $375 in total went to help out a single Mom raising three teen-age daughters. I met the family and said they were very appreciative that the families in our neighborhood took the time during the holiday season to help out another Fairfax family. THANK YOU THANK YOU!! As always, I love to hear from you – give me a call or email about suggestions to make our place to live a better one! -Hildie Hilcarn31@aol.com

GETTING TO KNOW YOU—FEATURED BOARD MEMBERS

Steve and Nasrin Lescure are a welcome asset to our CCH Board –both very active.

Thanks to Nasrin, our once “very common” Commons area is now a welcoming place to just come and enjoy the flowers and peace, and a great meeting place for all our residents. As Chair of the “Commons” she has motivated our residents to make it a happening place. Steve is our Historian and keeper of 50 years of information about CCH. He welcomes anything residents might contribute to his Library!

The Lescure family moved from Washington DC to Country Club Hills in 1991. The primary motivation was good schools and proximity to metro. The small town atmosphere within an urban setting and the friendly, active neighborhood with many children was a happy and welcome surprise.

Steve and Nasrin met when they both lived downtown and worked as programmers for an IT company. Steve works as a systems analyst at CGI, a Canadian IT firm with offices in Fairfax. Nasrin received her Chemical Engineering degree from Catholic University. She worked for Booz Allen for many years, and now works for the environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

The Lescure’s have three children. Yavar graduated from Fairfax High in 1998, and eventually went on to medical school at George Washington University. He works as a psychiatrist at GW and lives in DC. The twins, Tyler and Dylan, are juniors at Fairfax High. They play baseball at the school and enjoy music, playing in the school band and taking piano lessons.

Nasrin loves to do Yoga and gardening. She does a lot of work planting, maintaining, and organizing activities at The Commons. The Lescure’s love CCH and plan to stay in the neighborhood indefinitely

The City of Fairfax Police Department along with agencies throughout the region will be participating in the Spring 2010 Street Smart campaign beginning March 14th. Officers will step up pedestrian enforcement in an effort to change motorist and pedestrian behavior to reduce pedestrian and bicyclist deaths and injuries. The City of Fairfax Police Department is passing along the following safety recommendations from Street Smart.

For Drivers: Yield to pedestrians at crosswalks, slow down and obey posted speed limits, and yield to pedestrians and cyclists when turning .

For Pedestrians: Cross the street at marked crosswalks, before crossing, look left, right, then left again, use pedestrian pushbuttons, cross the street on the walk signal, and stay visible after dark.

For Bicyclists: Obey all signs and traffic lights, never ride against traffic, use hand signals, ride in a straight line to the right of traffic, always wear a helmet, and use lights at night.

RECYCLING COMMITTEE, KATIE BAXTER-GAGEN - KATIEPBG@YAHOO.COM

Recycling Tips for Spring!

Textile recycling is coming to the Property Yard on Pickett Road! Clothing, sheets, towels, etc. will be accepted at the property yard starting April 1st. Items with some useful life in them will be reused, all others recycled into new material.

Recycling is easier than ever - no more sorting and more types of items can now be recycled. Paper (including paperback books and phone books), plastics (any plastic container with a recycling symbol on it, e.g. yogurt and margarine type tubs are now accepted), metal cans (no lids - too sharp) and glass (nothing broken). Please make sure food residue is removed to reduce bug and pest problems along the recycling chain. Styrofoam is still on the unrecyclable list, so when possible avoid buying styrofoam products or packaging. Questions about City of Fairfax recycling can be answered by friendly people at 703-385-7995.

Composting is the best recycling for yard and vegetable waste. If you need to bag yard waste you can use biodegradable paper bags, those big capacity ones are available at Home Depot or grocery stores.

Check out an entertaining and thought-provoking video about STUFF. The Story of Stuff at storyofstuff.com is a 20 minute look at the cycle of buying and tossing. Stuff for thought.

HISTORIAN, STEVE LESCURE - STEPHEN.LESCURE@CGI.COM

Have you been to the Fairfax Museum on Main Street? It was the first elementary school in Fairfax, and was built in 1873. The museum produces exhibits on city-related history. If you're a quilter or a quilt aficionado then you should head over there and learn about a WPA project that employed quilters at the old Fairfax Courthouse from 1936 thru 1941. The exhibit ends on March 28th

Upstairs at the museum is a permanent exhibit dedicated to the town/city of Fairfax. The exhibit traces the history of the area from when it was inhabited by Indians, through colonial times, the civil war, its time as a farming village, and the more recent suburbanization period. There's an amusing quote on display from George Washington in regard to his experience with the roads in this area in 1774. He calls them "the worst roads that ever was trod by Man or Beast". I guess some things never change.

The exhibit at the Museum led me to wonder about the nature of our neighborhood before it became Country Club Hills. What was here before all the houses? Who owned it and what did they do with the land?

The library has numerous resources available to research City history. The Hopkin's Map published in 1878 shows the local roads and landowners. A landowner had to pay $5 to have his name on the map, $10 for the name to appear in large type. Judging from this map, it's clear that the Willcoxon family owned the land that would eventually become CCH.

In 1810 Rezin Willcoxon owned one thousand acres in the area, and in 1854 his son Albert bought 367 acres from this father. His land included, what is now the police station, CCH, Old Lee Hills and Daniels Run Elementary. He operated a farm, growing mostly wheat and oats and ran it with slaves.

The land remained in the hands of the Willcoxon's for four generations. The family lived in the Blenheim house through the Civil War when the area was occupied by northern troops (which must have been uncomfortable for Albert, since he voted for secession). After the war the Willcoxon's turned to dairy farming, like many farmers in Fairfax County. The county was the largest dairy producer in Virginia for a long period and was very successful. Albert died in 1885, and his wife Mary in 1903. Albert's son Harry inherited the house and land on the CCH side off Old Lee Highway and his sister, Bessie inherited what is now Old Lee Hills. The green house with the high wall on the corner of Old Post Road, was her home. In 1948 the 4th generation Barbara Scott and her Mother 3rd generation Margarite Duras sold all except 12 acres, the surrounding land which became CCH. Today, the home of Albert and the 12 acres is a City Park and houses a Civil War Museum and is open for all residents to enjoy.

So there you have it. What was in our neighborhood before we all showed up? Cows.

Thanks to Karen Moore of the Fairfax City Library and Andrea Lowenwarter, Historic Resources Specialist of Historic Blenheim for their help with this article.

COUNTRY HILLS GARDEN CLUB (CHGC) UPDATE

The Country Hills Garden Club (CHGC) had a very insightful March meeting. We had a wonderful speaker by the name of Carol Stone from the Chesapeake Bay Foundation. Carol reminded us that the Chesapeake Bay and its rivers and streams are in trouble. Pollution from many sources is degrading our water and threatening the habitat of fish, blue crabs, and other wildlife. The Chesapeake Bay's 64,000 square-mile watershed covers parts of six states (NY, PA, WV, VA, MD & DE) plus the District of Columbia and is home to more than 17 million people.

Carol addressed some ways that we gardeners can become better stewards of the Bay. (1) We can choose native plants for our landscape instead of non-native plants. Our native plants are being taken over by non-native invasive plants (spreading aggressively with no natural controls). Some species such as kudzu, English Ivy, Bradford Pear and purple loosestrife are just a few. Who knew that the Norway maples are invasive and shade out native groundcovers? Choose a red maple instead. (2) Reduce our lawn area. An alternative to the lawn would be trees, native plants and perhaps a habitat for wildlife. (3) Be aware of the chemicals your yard service is using on your lawn. If you can't use natural organic fertilizers, (best), then the next best is a slow-release or controlled-release fertilizer. If you would like more information go to their website at cbf.org/gardeners.

Our next meeting will be on April 13th at 10:00 a.m. at "The Commons". If you would like to join us for a meeting, or have any questions regarding our club, you may reach me at 703-591-4017 or at jeskoglund@verizon.net.
