

The Country Hills Garden Club has awarded the October 2010 Beauty Spot to John and Elvesia Cesarini, of 3421 Brookwood Drive.

For some time we have noticed small miracles happening, one by one, at the Cesarini's place.

First of all, a smallish building began to materialize; then, presto!, it was a handsome, very well built garage; then zip! zip! two round stone-bordered gardens appeared, nicely placed in the front yard, lovely flowers and plants seemed to spring up over night. A pretty white fence delineates the property on the east side, and a nice path runs around to the back.

We have enjoyed watching the Cesarinis in the yard, reaping the benefits of a summer of diligence and just plain hard work digging, seeding, mowing and watering.

Three cheers for you, Elvesia and John. You should be very proud! We thank you for making your property so attractive, and for adding to the beauty of Country Hills.

Polly Haecker and Polly Feuer for Country Hills Garden Club