

Fairfax Home Hit by $70,000 Fire

A one-story masonry house in the Country Club Hills section of Fairfax County suffered $70,000 damage last night after a fire started in the basement, county firemen reported.

They said the two-alarm fire at the home of John J. Turtora, 10100 Cape-way Ct., spread from the basement to the first floor before being brought under control shortly before 8 p.m.

Turtora and his family were evacuated from the home, but a pet cat died in the blaze, firemen said. The cause of the fire was not known.
